

Regarding: County Commission hearing on LNG remand

It is inconceivable to me that a project the county itself has characterized as "unprecedented" in scale could then be called by the county an undertaking of small to moderate size. How two or three tanks, each fourteen stories in height, together with outbuildings, a network of roads and pipelines and a specially dredged ship turning basin, can be described as anything less than large defies reason.

Kerstin Adams